The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Voice of People Diminishing

A growing number of voters, particularly among the young, first-timers, sincerely believe that big business calls the plays, and that the administration, whether it be Republican or Democratic, follows the script.

That thought was given bouyancy when ITT floated up as sponsor of the GOP convention which was at the time scheduled for San Diego.

That gave growing credence to the idea that big business was not only profiting from the decisions of the administration but, indeed, were dictating many of them.

Democrats are giving support to that theory—but who else could? Certainly, not Republicans. They couldn't accuse themselves. If Democrats win in November, you'll be hearing it then as now—only it'll be Republicans making the charge.

A business-controlled administration is not necessarily a valid premise. This column collected four different assessments on this matter in a 24-hour period the other day. One viewpoint was so different that a somewhat fuller exposition is made of the fourth.

A black, young police officer was the first. He said he no longer resented George Wallace as a presidential candidate. "Suddenly it dawned on me that Wallace couldn't be a racist president. He could do only what 'they' let him do". "They" being the deeply-entrenched body of officials at various levels of government. They are permanent, not transitory as are presidents.

He said that the thrust of racial equality couldn't be changed now by Wallacites. "Too many 'equality' officials, from cabinet level to dog-catcher have become permanent fixtures of government". He indicated that no government can function without the full cooperation of department and bureau officials. "A racial equality turnabout simply couldn't get off the ground," he said.

A Mexican-American newscaster was the only one of the four who believes the presidency represents big business. "When big business wants anti-pollution, deflation or any other all-encompassing activity, that's when we'll get it. The little guy doesn't have any force."

A judge saw Wall Street as the strong force within the presidency. Each administration urges the public to get in on the nation's big-business action by investing in common stocks. Then, manipulated through mergers, coalitions, and other monopolistic practices, stocks drop in value as the firm's assets are drained away. The investor sees his dividends dry up as the firm becomes an empty shell with its goodies going to a new conglomerate held mostly by the manipulators.

He wondered why people thought that had a voice in such important issues as the death penalty when they don't even have a say about busing. California Courts decided to resolve the death penalty issue for them but busing is something else.

"It is difficult to find just who the heck favors busing," Carpenter says. "Just about everyone opposes it, from the President down to the individual parent who finds busing as expensive as it is unnecessary. It is obviously a super-expense drawn from funds that should be used for education."

But the die has already been cast and it is beyond a decision by the people of America.

Carpenter reminds that busing is part of a package mandated by the United Nation in 1963 and accepted by J. Arthur Goldberg, U.S. Ambassador, in 1966.

The idea of forced busing is included in U.N. General Assembly Resolution no. 1904, "The United Nations Declaration on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination."

The decree, humanitarian on the surface and filled with disarming language, calls for "the building of a world society free from all forms of racial segregation and discrimination . . ."

Enforced busing is an important part of that determination but it is far more insidious than American people voting on American busing. According to Carpenter the resolution involves the elimination of the races and cultures, and the creating of "a vapid, spineless, complacent United Nations Man."

The resolution, when understood by all races and cultures, will develop opposition from all who have ethnic or national pride. But the important point is that when the 119-nation body adopted it, it took the effect of universal world law, and superseded domestic law in every member nation.

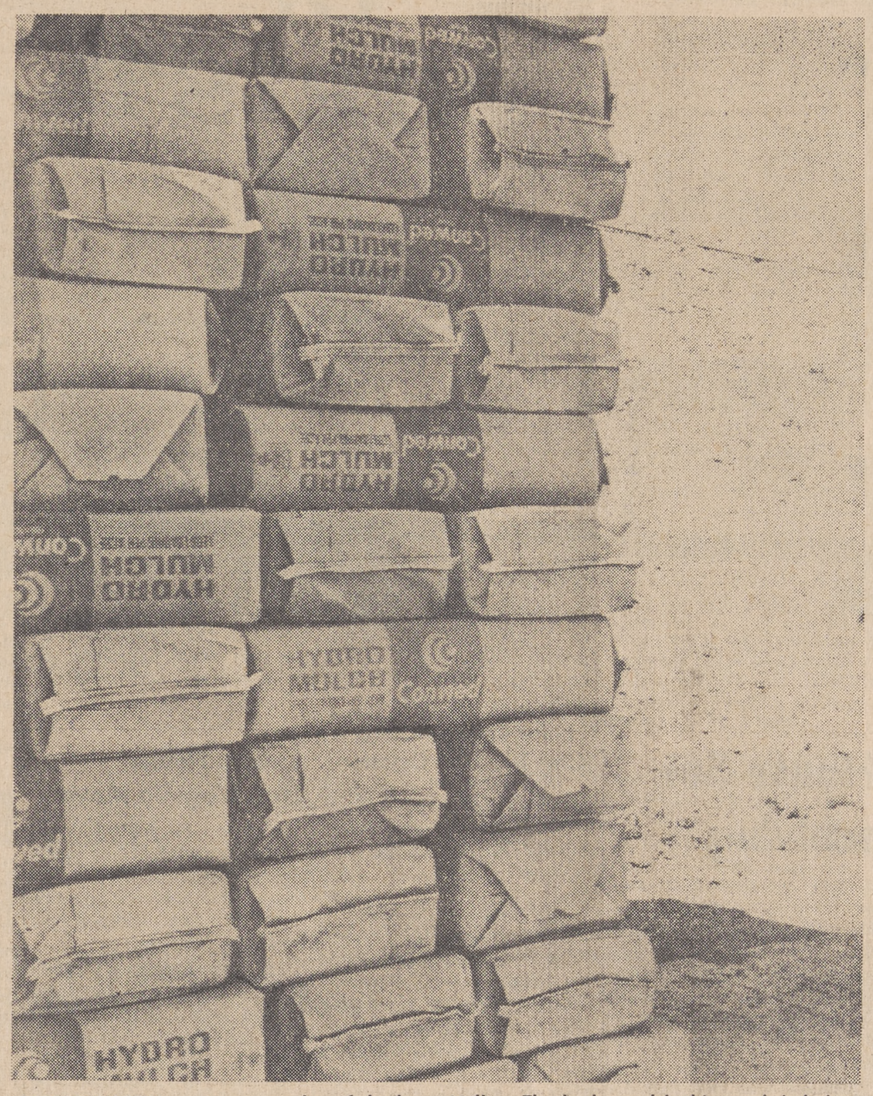
Carpenter says the resolution, in effect, mandates genocide and is in direct opposition to another U.N. law that would outlaw genocide. The 1963 resolution would demand the elimination of cultures and ethnic groups, pouring all mankind into a mixing pot with the idea of creating a new single race.

Thus, it goes much farther than mere business and in this era of growing national, racial and cultural pride, the 1963 resolution will have an electrifying effect when it is "discovered" throughout the world.

Carpenter concludes by observing that the U.N. in recent months has declared the Republic of China a "non-nation" which makes it possible that each of the world's races may be declared a "non-race."

It should be noted that the people also had no voice in the formation of the U.N. It was created by Alger Hiss and his contemporaries and foisted upon the U.S. by a war-weary Congress. Never yet have the people of this country had a chance to vote for the elimination of our Constitutional Republic in favor of the one-world organization.

The U.S. contributes 31½ per cent of the U.N. budget. We pay $335,443,000 annually for permitting this outfit to dictate domestic law.



HYDRO-MULCH — Large stacks of hydro-mulch were a familiar sight at the Sweetwater Village construction site last week, as preparations were made for landscaping slopes in the first phase of the "new town" development at Rancho San Diego in Spring Valley. The hydro-mulch this week is being combined with seed and sprayed over the slopes, which will result in ground cover next month. The process, a new one, is inexpensive and fast.

Landscaping Begins In Sweetwater Village Area

Landscaping started this week in Sweetwater Village, the first area of residential development in the planned "new town" of Rancho San Diego located in Spring Valley.

Irrigation pipe installation is nearing completion over slope areas totaling 1,700,000 square fett in Sweetwater Village in preparation for the "hydroseeding" planting process soon to begin.

The slope landscaping program in the area will cost in excess of $300.00. Valley Crest Landscaping, Inc., San Diego, is the contractor, with Environmental Research Associates of Del Mar the overall Sweetwater Village landscape designers.

"More than 80 acres in Sweetwater Village will be ecologically improved," said Leonard Graysen, vice president and general manager, "furthering the open-space, planned development of Rancho San Diego outlined in the concept plan."

In keeping with the Rancho San Diego open-space commitment, the overall Sweetwater Village landscaping design in addition to the slope planting includes residential lot landscaping; a variety of plantings within residential sections and greenbelt and open space areas; decorative trees to line the streets; ground cover, shrubs and trees for two neighborhood parks; median plantings on the main Austin dr. thoroughfare; and ground cover, shrubs and other plantings at the Village entrance.

It is estimated that when completed, the cost of the overall Sweetwater Village landscaping program will be in excess of $1 million.

The slope hydroseeding operation is accomplished by highly-trained men and specialized equipment. A specially-formulated mixture of seed, fertilizer and mulch is pumped through a large hose from a water tank-type truck in a pattern over a pre-staked area. A second application involves a re-seeding of all slopes.

The seed mix contains fourteen varieties of trees and ground cover plants, selected on the basis of favorable growth characteristics, availability, ability to do well in the Sweetwater Village area and visual compatibility.

To maintain control over the growth, and to provide green vistas, the trees and large shrubs will be planted in groupings.

The low growing shrubs and ground cover will provide masses of native plants indigenous to the Rancho San Diego area.

Upon completion of the hydroseeding, the contractor has the important job of keeping the seeds moist at all times without washing them to the bottom of he slope or washing off the protective mulch.

After about 60 days, the slopes will have a mantle of new, well-rooted growth and the hills will have a green cast when viewed from Sweetwater Springs blvd.

Rancho San Diego has also awarded a contract for the installation of street name signs, survey monuments and fire hydrant protection posts in Sweetwater Village.

Graysen said Sierra Fence Company of National City has been given the contract, part of which involves the installation of approximately 107 street name signs.

Graysen said the work contracted for by Sierra Fence is planned for completion in early August.

Sheriff Charges Talent Firm With False Advertising

The San Diego Sheriff's Department reported this week that a criminal complaint has been filed against Talent Search Division of Warren Management, charging false advertising and for operating as artist managers without a license.

Mass indiscriminate mailings informed parents that their child had been especially selected for a talent interview is the basis on which the charge was filed.

Civil suits have been filed against Talent Search, according to the Sheriff but this is the first criminal action taken this year.

Individuals who feels that he has been swindled by a talent agency should contact the Sheriff's Fraud Division immediately at 232-3811, ext. 328.

With the report of the criminal action also came a warning that door-to-door book and magazine salesmen should be regarded with caution. Such salespeople should be required to show legitimate identification and solicitor permits — and never make a check payable to the salesman.

Liquor Store Robbed

A Lemon Grove Liquor store was the victim of an armed robbery last Friday night, when a lone gunman escaped with about $200.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, a male Negro, about 20-25 years old, entered San Altos Liquor, displayed what appeared to be a .16 guage shotgun, and demanded money.

After the clerk placed the cash into a paper bag, the robber fled on foot.

S.D. County Recorder Sets Income Record

The County Recorder's office established record highs in volume and revenue in the busiest month of June and fiscal year in the history of the office.

County Recorder Harley F. Bloom said his office closed out the fiscal year on June 30 with a record effort which also brought the yearly totals to an all time high level.

Marriages filed in June were slightly lower than last June, but the year's total was up.

Bloom commended his staff for this super effort in examining, recording, indexing and microfilming the deluge of documents presented to his office for recording.

High real estate activity accounted for most of the volume as the population continues to grow and property sales are booming, he said. An increase in recording fees was effective March 4 accounted for a portion of the increase.

L.G. Trustees Change Meetings To Tuesdays

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night for its annual organizational meeting, approving several routine matters, changing regularly scheduled meetings to Tuesday nights, and electing officers for the 1972-73 school year.

The first order of business under the organizational meeting was the board meeting schedule. District Superintendent Bob Sutton, attending his first meeting as superintendent, noted that the board could consider scheduling meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday, which would avoid the Monday holiday conflict.

Sutton noted that there would be four Monday holidays for the 1972-73 fiscal year. By meeting Tuesdays, only the December 26 meeting would be cancelled, Sutton said.

The board agreed that the schedule which would best serve the district would be adopted, and the administration indicated that the Tuesday schedule would be its best interest.

No trustees indicated inconveniences or conflicts with the Tuesday meetings, and no objections were raised by those in attendance. Trustee Henry Reinecke made the motion, which was carried unanimously. It was agreed that the new schedule would begin in September.

After considering several routine matters, the board set about the business of electing officers for the new fiscal year. Bert Cosby, who served as president last year, was replaced by Leonard Klee, last year's vice president. Jim Dorman was installed as vice president, and Henry Reinecke became clerk of the board.

Prior to relinguishing his seat, Cosby told those present that at the meeting of the board two weeks ago, he had failed to note that it was retiring superintendent Byron L. Netzley's last meeting as superintendent. Cosby said that it had been a pleasure to serve with Byron and publicly apologized for failing to acknowledge his retirement. The meeting two weeks ago was unusually lengthy and trustees were absorbed in budget considerations.

Following the organizational meeting, trustees considered items in the regular meeting, hashing over routine matters and approving the 1972-73 publication budget.

Bob Sutton reported to the board that the administration had made cuts where feasible in order to bring the tax rate increase down to 10 cents. Two weeks ago, trustees rejected a 19-cent tax rate increase and instructed the administration to rim the hike.

After trimming the document down to size, it was noted that reserves would not have to be reduced as much as earlier expected.

Bids To Open On Highway Improvements

The State Division of Highways has called for bids on two highway safety projects involving Interstate 5 and State Route 94 in San Diego County.

Jacob Dekema, District Engineer, said that the first project calls for the installation of "rumble-strips" along the Interstate 5 freeway shoulders of the north bound lanes along the eleven mile distance from the San Dieguito River bridge in San Diego, to a half mile south of Palomar Airport Road in Carlsbad.

Under the second project, a 0.7-mile section of Campo rd. in Spring Valley will be widened from two to four lanes. Route 94 is a four lane freeway at either end of the short section of two lane road which forms a bottleneck, according to Dekema. The widening will be done between Route 125 and Bancroft dr. Approximately $40,000 is available for the work.

Bids for both projects will be opened July 20, in Los Angeles and if found to be satisfactory work should be underway within 30 days.

LG Fire District Takes Forestry Division Parcel

The Lemon Grove Fire Protection District, at a meeting of the board of directors Monday night, approved the annexation of a small triangular property near MacArthur dr., which is currently under the jurisdiction of the State Division of Forestry.

Chief Fred Dixon, reporting to the board, indicated that the Division of Forestry had asked that the parcel be annexed by the local district. The parcel is near MacArthur and Federal blvd.

A check with surrounding residents and the Helix Irrigation District indicated that no opposition to the move was evident. The annexation would require the installation of two hydrants.

The board approved the move on condition that proper facilities be provided.

LG Planning Association Meeting Set

Two major items of interest will be considered at this evening's meeting of the Lemon Grove Community Planning Association, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Golden Avenue School.

Interest in the report of Lucy Coles, chairman of the parks and recreation committee of the association, is expected to spark good attendance at the confab.

Mrs. Coles will review her meeting with the Broadway Heights Community Council in conjunction with implementing park planning for the local planning area. Information on the feasibility of a park in the western portion of the planning area will be presented.

The second item on the agenda will be review of recommendations as suggested by the various county agencies involved in service to the Lemon Grove area. Final adoption of the Lemon Grove Community Plan will take place at a general meeting scheduled for September.

Gun Charge Penalty Is 8 Jail Weekends

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Spring Valley couple was fined and put on probation last week in Superior Court after being found guilty in a non-jury trial on charges involving marijuana and firearms.

James Neiswonger, 23, and his wife, Yvonne, 20, of 8233 Vista dr., Spring Valley, were arrested on Feb. 19, when a sheriff's helicopter patrol spotted two vehicles in the Flinn Springs rd. area at an illegal dumping site.

The Neiswongers were found with an assortment of arms in their possession and Mrs. Neiswonger with a marijuana "joint" in her purse by an auto patrol dispatched to the scene. She was charged with that possion, and Neiswonger was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and having a sawed off shotgun.

She was found guilty of possession of marijuana.

Judge Orfield last week put Neiswonger on three years' probation; her, on two years' probation, and fined each of them $200. Additionally, the husband is to spend eight weekends in the county jail.

Second Campus On Schedule

The proposed second campus for the Grossmont Community College District impressed governing board members Monday night, when plans for the $20 million first phase were presented to trustees by designer Frank Hope, Jr.

Trustees noted that the campus, to be set on 165 acres of Rancho San Diego land in Spring Valley, would house 6,800 students when the first phase is completed, and 12,500 with expansion. The first phase is expected to be completed in time for the 1976-77 school year.

The project, which is on schedule, must have completed preliminary plans by October 1 of this year. Delays were nearly upon the district last week when negotiations for purchase of the land broke down.

A tentative agreement, however, has been reached with Rancho San Diego officials, averting a possible search for another campus site or condemnation proceedings.

Funding for the construction of the campus will be furnished by the state and the local district. The state will supply about $15 million for the project, and a bond election is expected to raise the additional $5 to $6 million next spring.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

Some news stories have reported that Fireman's Fund Insurance Company testified against Assembly Bill 125, the Fenton-Song No-Fault measure, before the Senate Judiciary Committee on June 27. That is not true.

Fireman's Fund is and has been one of the strongest advocates of No-Fault auto insurance in California and across the nation. We certainly do not want readers to think that we have changed our position. To the contrary, we are more convinced than ever that California needs a good No-Fault law, and needs it now.

Fireman's Fund is FOR No-Fault. We did not testify against AB 125. Thank you for helping to set the record straight.

Sincerely,
Stuart D. Menist
President

LOCAL FEATURE — Those local residents who travel with regularity on Imperial ave. have come to look for the sign at the Lemon Grove Church of Christ. The sign, changed each week or so, nearly always contains a "day-brightener" or religious message for the commuter. Ed Varley, who is one of those who drives by the sign often, happened to have his camera for a few of those trips, and came up with these snapshots.

Annual Open House Set At Hillcrest Receiving

Once each year, the public is invited to look inside Hillcrest Receiving Home at 4307 Third ave., according to Superintendent Robert Skidmore.

"The event is scheduled this year July 29 from 2 to 4 p.m.," he said, "and we urge everyone to come visit our facility."

A unit of the San Diego County Probation Department, Hillcrest is designed to care for children who have no one to provide for them, who are maltreated, or in need of protection.

The home provides 24-hour shelter and supervision on a temporary basis until other arrangements can be made for care. Most children reside there for only a relatively short period of time — the average is about 14 days — before other arrangements are made.

Skidmore said, "Just suppose a man and his wife were seriously injured while going to the market, leaving their youngsters at home without someone to provide for them. That's one example of Hillcrest's residents. We would feed and shelter these youngsters until relatives could be located.

"To protect the children, we have only this one short period each year to allow the general public to tour the facility, but adult groups may arrange for tours at any time. Because we depend on support from volunteers to feed babies, to go on outdoor activities with older kids, and to be substitute fathers for teenagers, this annual open house gives prospective volunteers a peek at our operation," he said.

Skidmore also said that donations of new or usable clothing and toys may be brought to the home at any hour of the day or night. Some children desperately need clothing when they are received here from a disadvantaged home. He added that all sizes can be used due to the range in ages from one week to 18 years.

Previous high for the twelve months ending June 30 was set in 1969-70, when 3,129,144 visitors were admitted through the Zoo's turnstiles. Attendance for fiscal 1970-71 was 3,089,738.

The 1971-72 year marked the fourth successive year that attendance at the local attraction has topped three million.

Second Series On Corrections Set By Colleges

A second series of programs devoted to promoting citizen participation and community involvement in corrections and probation, has commenced at Parkway Junior High School in La Mesa.

The programs, sponsored by the San Diego County Probation Department and Grossmont College's Office of Community Services, will be presented from 7:30 to 10 p.m., on five consecutive Monday evenings.

After a general introduction to volunteering and community involvement by Dr. Leo Gladin, a clinical psychologist for the community Mental Health Service, San Diego County Probation Department, held Monday the series will feature field trips to juvenile and adult probation centers led by Mrs. Maria Gladin, former probation officer, as well as programs devoted to the general philosophy of probation as an alternate to incarceration and the Volunteer in Probation, as counselor, confidant and friend.

The first series of programs held in March proved to be so popular that a second series aimed at training VIP's to work under the direction of the San Diego County Probation Department was initiated. The public is invited to attend the series of programs and there is no charge.

CPO Given Power To Handle Money

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Fundamental changes in the structure of the Comprehensive Planning Organization (CPO) were tentatively approved on Monday by the policy committee.

The policy committee will meet again Monday to review a new joint powers agreement before the document is returned to all of the city councils and the board of supervisors for execution — if the councils and board so choose.

For the first time, the CPO would have the power to accept contracts and handle money. The new JPA cuts the ties with the county and no one knows now if the county will become a partner in the new agreement.

The City of San Diego would become the umbrella agency, instead of the county, for providing fiscal and auditing serving for the CPO staff. The county has provided this service in the past without charge.

The committee also agreed upon a voting formula that fixes the voting weight of the county at 30 percent and the city at 40 percent.

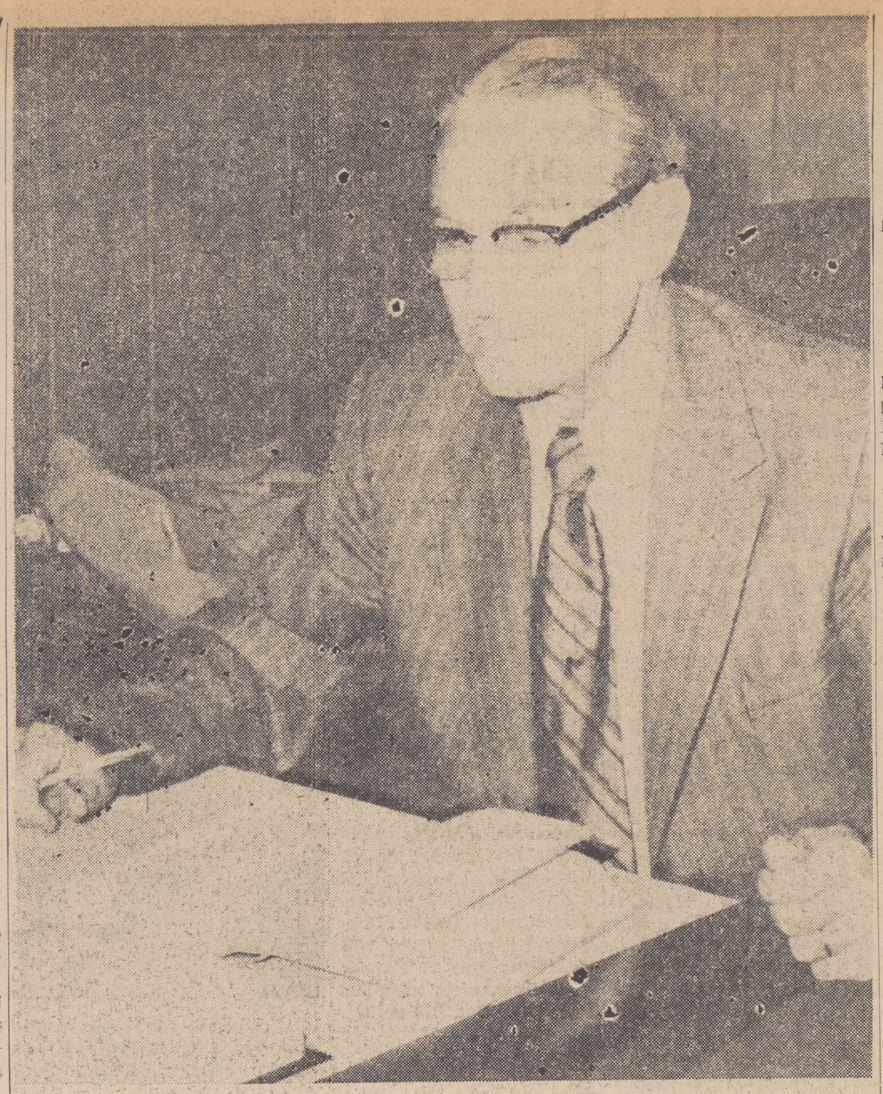
Family Reunion Held After Over Forty Years

A family reunion was held over the weekend for four members of Mrs. George Gerdts' family who hadn't seen one another in over 40 years.

According to Mrs. Gerdts, the last time the foursome had been together was in 1931, when her mother died. After that, Mrs. Gerdts, her sister Janet Fox, and brother Jack H. Armstrong were sent to an orphanage and later adopted.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Gerdts' older brother, Leroy Branch, went to work on a farm and lost track of the family. In 1951, Mrs. Gerdts was able to locate Leroy through a post card which was sent to her mother during WWI.

Since then, visits on an intermittant basis have been possible, but the entire family was unable to get together until last week, when Leroy flew to San Diego last Thursday evening and spent the weekend with Mrs. Gerdts at her home, 2573 Cypress ave., Lemon Grove.



LAW PRACTICE — Seth J. Carpenter, one of five Mt. Miguel teachers who retired this year, has set up a law practice in La Mesa. Carpenter, who taught at Mt. The five instructors served the Grossmont High School District for a total of over 70 years.

Gulls Draft Rookie Canadian Defenseman

The San Diego Gulls signed defenseman Robert Curtis (Bob) Kirk to a training camp contract, manager Max McNab said this week.

Kirk, 20, played with the Oshawa Generals last season of the Junior OHA, the top junior league in Canada. Born in Sudbury, Ontario, Bob is 5'10" and 180 pounds. He helped lead the Generals to a second place finish and scored 20 points with three goals and 17 assists in 60 games. He was third on the team in penalty minutes with 101.

"Bob has an advantage because he is a right handed shooting defenseman and they are historically difficult to find for hockey clubs," said McNab. "He is smart with the puck and we feel he has a real shot at making the club."

The young defenseman was recommended highly by Billy Taylor, a former NHL All-Star center who saw action in the late 1940's and early 1950's with the Toronto Maple Leafs, Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins.

Kirk is the first rookie to sign with the Gulls for the 1972-73 season. The Western League rule states that each club must carry a minimum of three rookies on their roster.

Fashionettes Win Two Thrillers To Tie For L.G. Bobby Sox Pennant

The Len's of Lemon Grove Fashionettes won a pair of thrilling games last week to come from half a game out of first place to tie for the title in the final Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League standings.

The Fashionettes, who lost their only game two weeks ago, came back with thrillers over the Southwest Leasing and Car Rental Lessees, 17-16, and the Quota Club Midgets, 10-4, to deadlock with the Severin, Garzenelli, and Stenback Orioles for the championship. A three-game playoff series was to be played Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week.

The Fashionettes opened the week's play against the Lessees and bounced away to the lead with an eight-run outburst in the second inning. The Lessees chipped away at the Fashionette lead until the score was knotted at 16-16 in the seventh inning. Andrea Corrao scored the winning run for the Fashionettes.

Later in the week, the Fashionettes played their final game of the regular season against the Midgets, who grabbed the lead in the early innings. In the third frame, however, the Fashionettes caught the Midgets and went on to the 10-4 decision. The win put the Fashionettes temporarily in sole possession of first place.

The following day the Orioles took the field against the winless Lido's Pizza Spicers in the final regular season contest, with a must-win situation for the Orioles. Had the Orioles lost, the Fashionettes would have won the pennant outright.

With the outcome of the game critical, the Orioles sent act pitcher Terri Freeman to the mound, and the youngster responded with a three-hitter. The Oriole bats backed her up with 23 runs to claim the 23-1 victory. Monica Rusconi led the winners at the platter with four singles.

In the only other games of the week, the Lionettes blanked the Lessees, 22-0, and the Nibblers knocked off the Quasarettes, 10-8, giving the Lionettes third place and dropping the Quasarettes to fourth place.

In the minor league, the Lemon Grove Chrysler-Plymouth Crickets wrapped up the pennant with a 21-5 decision over the Catholic Daughters of America Cherubs, on an excellent pitching performance by Teri Collinge, who wanned 11 batters.

Highlight of the Chargers' summer training camp at UC Irvine, the scrimmage will mark the first appearance of Deacon Jones against his former Ram teammates. The former all-pro defensive end was traded to San Diego on Jan. 29 along with defensive tackle Greg Wojcik and running back Lee White in exchange for linebacker Jeff Staggs and three high draft choices.

The scrimmage will be a benefit for the UC Irvine athletic scholarship fund. Admission fee is $2 for adults and $1 for students and children. Tickets can be purchased at UC Irvine or at the Charger ticket office in San Diego Stadium.

Set to attend the scrimmage is a large contingent of Charger Backers on the fan club's annual "Day at Camp." Backers' chairman is Andy Moritz.

KEEPS PROMISE — John Harris, left, manager of the last place Orioles of the Lemon Grove Little League, made a deal with his players last week. If the cellar dwellers would beat the league champion Indians in the final contest of the season, John said, the team members could shave off his beard. Well, the Orioles turned the trick, 6-3, and home plate became a barbershop after the game. Team father Bob Welch took scissors to the five-year growth, and when the whiskers were reduced enough, youngsters on the team took turns swiping at the coach with a razor. Harris noted that he made it through the ordeal with a minimum of knicks, and vowed to grow another beard for next year, when the team would have to win the pennant to earn the honor of removing it. (Ed Varley photo)

NAILED AT THE PLATE — Indian catcher Mike Lebel showed local fans that he knows how to handle himself when tagging out runners trying to score, as he slaps the tag on Oriole second baseman Mark Cofer in the final game of the season in the Lemon Grove Little League. Lebel blocked the plate in the style of a big-leaguer and barely flinched when Cofer toppled him over with a good slide. Lebel came up with the ball still in his glove for the putout, but the Orioles managed to come off with the victory, 6-3.

Easter Plumbing Moves Near S.V. 'Sox Pennant

Easter Plumbing, all but out of the pennant race last week, won three games last week to vault into first place and move within a single win of claiming loop laurels in the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League.

Giving a helping hand to Easter was Speedy 7-11/Mac's Drive In, last week's leader, who dropped two contests on the week.

Easter, now with a 20-5 record, leads Speedy/Mac's by 1½ games, after trailing by a full game last week. Speedy/Mac's won 14 games in a row before the two losses, and looked like a sure bet for the title.

The week's play opened with Easter knocking off the last place Boosters, 14-7. The second game of the week was between third place Delp Plastering and then-league leader Speedy/Mac's. Delp, with the help of Speedy/Mac's errors, got to pitcher Debbye Whitley for six runs on six hits. Valerie Aranda twirled magnificent ball for the winners, giving up just 2 runs on four hits.

The loss for Speedy/Mac's tied Easter for the top spot.

Easter took the field again against SD Linen Supply and pounded out an 18-2 victory to move into first place.

Speedy/Mac's then took on Wilford's Financial, but lost 10-5 to allow Easter to move a full game ahead in the standings. Speedy/Mac's committed ten errors in the first three innings of the game.

Easter then came back to knock off Sportland, 25-3 on Tami Ribbys' one-hit pitching performance to edge closer to the flag.

Easter needs to win only one of two scheduled games to claim the title, and if Speedy/Mac's should lose its only remaining contest, the results would be the same.

Easter will take on Wilford's Financial in the first game next week, but Wilford's has been hot the past two or three games and the contest should be an interesting one.

SV Tourney Loop Names Tourney Team Players

Spring Valley Pony League president George Donnally last week announced the names of players who will participate in the Area III tournament representing the league.

From league champion Mary Brown Realty, four players advanced to the post-season team. They are Ken Hallin, Tim Kinsella, Ernie Nuno, and Roy Valdez.

From first-half season pennant winner IED Conic Corporation, four players were selected for the all-star squad. IED stars are Robert Alequin, Terry Boothe, J. P. Koval, and Eric Neilson.

Other team members will be Ken Covey and Rick Doll, of Musser and Sons; Dan Dixon and Jim Kelso, of the Giants; and Chuck Mumaw, Russ Palser, and Rolland Wiggs, of the Dodgers.

Manager of the team will be Archie Valdez, of Mary Browne Realty and Ernie Arroyo will serve as coach. Other leagues who will field teams at the tourney are Grossmont PL, La Mesa PL, and Sky-Grove PL.

Gulls Book L.A. Kings For An Oct. 4 Exhibition

The national Hockey League will invade San Diego October 4 but it will be for an exhibition game with the Gulls.

As a matter of fact, it will be the first time in history that Coach-General Manager Max McNab has even permitted an enemy league team in town for any purpose. He runs a tight ship.

More factually, foreign teams are controlled by the local franchise holder and the Oct. 4 game will give the Gulls, and an arena full of fans, an opportunity to see how the home team looks against major league talent.

It may boil down to an even more intimate relationship with the Los Angeles Kings. Larry Regan, general manager of the Kings told members of the Sportscasters-Sportswriters Assn. that a working arrangement could result from the present romance.

McNab admitted that working as an independent was becoming harder as other Western Hockey League teams become "farms" for the big leagues. He indicated, however, that it would be a "working arrangement" rather than a sell out.

The game with the Kings is scheduled for 7:30 and all week night games next season start at that hour.

Ticket sales will be announced. But last year's season ticket-holders will have first call on their reserved seats for the pre-season contest. Gulls information office is 224-3761.

S.V. Little League Flag Up For Grabs

The Spring Valley Little League pennant race remained wrapped in suspense last week as the top four teams split games, leaving three teams with an excellent shot at the title and a fourth team still in the running.

Berg Electric and Luigi's Restaurant remained tied for the league at 11-7, one game ahead of longshot Moose Lodge. In fourth place, a game and a half out of first, is Dial Finance, with a remaining mathematical shot at the flag.

In last week's action, Luigi's led off the week with a 5-1 decision over S&H Martinizing, on Jeff Whitley's three-hitter. Berg Electric followed with a loss to Dial Finance, 4-3 in extra innings, giving Luigi's a firm hold on first place.

Later in the week, Luigi's lost to S&H, 6-5 and Berg beat Dial, 8-5, knotting the standings again.

While Berg and Luigi's were having their problems, Moose Lodge missed a chance to grab a share of the top spot by splitting a pair with Jackson Supply, 8-1 and 6-13. Moose sent Roger Revels to the mound in the first game and he twirled a three-hitter for the victory. In the second game, the Moose seemed to be enroute to the win after taking a 3-0 lead in the first inning on John Valluzi's homer. Jackson came back to score six times in the second inning to take a lead never to be relinguished.

In the only other games,

Rosette Lasts 3 Rounds; O'Halloran Fights Scott

He went to the Coliseum. That was mistake number 1.

Then he dropped his left guard momentarily in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder. That was the other mistake.

Long after they counted him out and announced his opponent Lonnie Bennett, the winner, they were still working over Rosette to restore him to consciousness.

The knockout came after 27 seconds of the third round and it registered Bennett's 10th straight knockout and his 11th in 16 fights. Bennett, 26-years old, 175 pounds, is from Los Angeles and is considered one of the fastest rising gladiators on the west coast. Rosette, a southpaw, weighed in at 172.

In another 10-rounder on the same card, light heavyweight Greg Potter earned a unanimous decision over Jose Miranda. Both were in at 140 pounds.

Friday's card at the Coliseum will spotlight San Diego's current fighting favorite Jack O'Halloran. He will take on another giant, Victor Scott, who is 6'-3" and who weighs 220 pounds. O'Halloran, 6'-6" weighs 240 and he was defeated by Henry Clark in mid-June. Assuming that he beats Scott, he will fight Ken Norton Aug. 4. Norton took a decision from O'Halloran in a previous San Diego meeting.

Preliminary bouts start at 8 p.m. Friday. Tickets are $7 ringside, $5 reserved and $3 general admission.

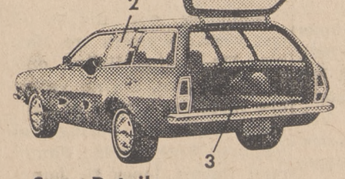
Pinto Wagon: $2265*
We put a lot into it.
You can put a lot in it.

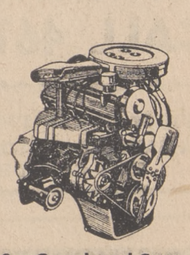
What you can put in: over 60 cubic feet. Put the rear seat down and there's 60.6 cubic feet of carrying space. For comparison: VW Squareback and Vega Kammback both give you a bit over 50 cubic feet.

The basic $2265* model. It's the ideal choice for people who want an economy car that carries more—or a wagon that costs less. The white sidewall tires (shown here) are $28.00

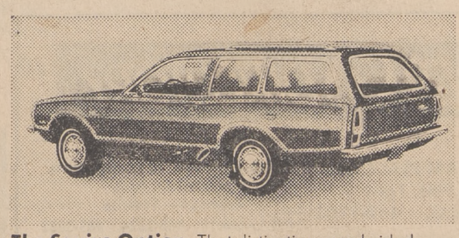


Some Details.
1. The lift gate swings up and out of the way.
2. The rear passenger windows flip open.
3. The spare tire doesn't take up any load room because it has its own well under the floor. And beneath it all, the rear suspension is specially designed for load carrying.

Front Disc Brakes. Standard. And there's precise rack-and-pinion steering, which is normally found only in some of the more expensive sports cars.



2000cc Overhead Cam Engine. It's rugged, economical, peppy—and standard equipment. A 4-speed floor mounted all-synchromesh transmission is also standard.



The Squire Option. That distinctive wood-sided wagon look, plus wheel covers, special trim, and more. No other economy wagon offers anything like it. Price with the Squire Option: $2479.* The luggage rack is $45.53 extra. The white sidewall tires $28.00.

*Sticker Price. Excludes dealer preparation charges, if any, destination charges ($105.00), title, taxes and California emission system ($13.87).

Joan Skinner, Carolyn Craig and Carmen Garcia, wives of Padre coaches, and Jean Zimmer, wife of manager Don Zimmer, also will participate.

"We're serious about winning," said Mrs. Colbert. "And we've planned a few surprises for our husbands that I'm sure the fans will enjoy."

Mrs. Colbert isn't so sure that the husbands would enjoy those "surprises."

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of July 3-10, answered seven fire calls and one rescue call.

Two of the fire calls involved property damage. On July 4, at 8:49 p.m., firemen responded to a call at Massachusetts and Waite dr. There, a motorcycle, belonging to Gerald Denny, of 7916 Blue Lake, San Diego, was damaged in the amount of $100. Cause was given as a fuel line leak.

On July 7, at 7:58 p.m., firemen responded to a call at 2159 El Dora, where a pan had been left on the kitchen range, causing extensive smoke throughout the house. Damage was estimated at $200. The home belongs to Russell Slay.

The one rescue call was on July 7, at 5:58 a.m. The rescue team went to 7466 Pacific ave., where crewmen gave oxygen to Clifton C. Lampert, 62, who had suffered a heart attack. He was sent to a hospital.

RANGERETTES — These attractive young ladies are now on duty at various San Diego County Parks handling reservations and generally helping make campers feel at ease. They will serve throughout the summer at Don Picos, El Monte, Lake Jennings, Lower Otay, San Dieguito, Flinn Springs, and Felicita Parks..

This is the first year that reservations can be made and also the first year for the San Diego County Resident Discount Card. Purchasing the $5 card entitles a resident to unlimited reservations normally costing $1.50 each and to a 50¢ discount per day on the usual camping fee. County park reservations can be made up to 90 days in advance by phoning 239-PARK.

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Harry F. Scheidle, who originated the reservation and discount programs, reports that sales of the cards are far ahead of expectations.

The wall chart had scribbled across it "Recall Cranston." A member of the waiting press had written it.

Thus U. S. Senator Allan Cranston was greeted as he arrived in a non-highjacked PSA plane for a Saturday morning news conference in the manager's office of San Diego's Lindbergh Field air terminal.

Sen. Cranston was enroute to Miami where he would cast his support for Sen. McGovern.

But he spoke briefly about highjacking, too.

"The new steps presently being taken should stop it," he told newsmen. He saw no need for congressional action.

But about the Democratic convention. "I will support Sen. McGovern — or any other candidate delegates choose. I don't think McGovern can be stopped. I don't think he should be stopped."

"Yes," he answered to the question, "Humphrey may very well be his running mate for vice president.

About Kennedy. "Only if by some chance McGovern is defeated at the convention, then Sen. Edward Kennedy may become a candidate.

Chris Pueschel, son of a former Lemon Grove minister, handled Cranston's press conference. His father, the Rev. Mr. Bruno Pueschel served at the Lemon Grove Congregational church about ten years ago.

S.V. Woman Attends NALS Convention

NALS is a non-partisan, non-union, non-political and non-sectarian group to unite persons engaged in work of a legal nature and to encourage their continuing education. Its chief objective is to provide service to attorneys, the Courts, the general public and to the legal secretaries.

'Auto-Magic' Makes Payments Seem Easier

Bank of America has announced a new auto finance program.

Called "Auto-Magic", it will offer a 24 to 36-month auto financing plan featuring low monthly payments.

Under the plan, monthly payments — excluding the final one — will be based on the difference between the car's sale price, less down payment, and its approximate wholesale value at the contract's maturity.

The borrower's monthly payments will be substantially lower because he would be repaying on this difference rather than on the total value of the car, Al Woods, Lemon Grove branch manager said.

The balance of the contract would be due as the final payment.

If the borrower chooses to sell his car at the contract's maturity, the auto dealer would repurchase it for the amount of the final payment, providing the car meets predetermined wear and tear requirements.

Or the borrower may make the final payment and keep the car, or he may sell it elsewhere and apply the proceeds to his final payment.

A BoA spokesman said Auto-Magic is suited to car owners who trade in their autos at regular intervals, or who prefer to invest less capital in a car.

Jury Duty Cause For Changed Hours At LG CoC Office

The call is for three months. The average jury service is 20 days during that period. As a result, the chamber office will be open at odd hours with the period unknown in advance.

Best suggestion is a phone call to the office for those having chamber business.

The number is 469-9621.

Brushfires Play Important Role In Southern California Ecology

A generation has been taught that all fires are bad and must be extinguished immediately, leaving the forest or brushland "as nature intended"; so the philosophy went.

Because Southern California fires have grown increasingly larger, hotter, and more devastating, this philosophy has come under close scrutiny. The County of San Diego has instituted scientific fire research rather than calling for more fire suppression services.

Findings show that brush management with some controlled fires are necessary to return California's brushlands to their natural state, according to Karl H. Baker, San Diego County Assistant Agricultural Commissioner and County Coordinator, Brush Control Program.

"Major wildfire conflagrations such as the Conejo Fire of 1950, the Woodson Fire of 1967, and the Laguna Fire of 1970 haven't always been the lot of San Diego County," said Baker.

He pointed out that the brush which covers much of the California coastal slopes and the lower foothills of the Sierras is called chaparral, or more fancifully, the "Elfin Forest." It is composed of several varieties of evergreen shrubs — chamis, sage, ceanothus, sumac, scrub oak, and manzanita. In its older stages, it provides a highly volatile fuel for raging wildfires that destroy everything in their paths.

"Forestry researchers have determined through reading tree rings that fires have occurred regularly throughout all of California even long before the white man appeared, but they were compartively minor blazes, not reaching the fury of the infernos we know today," Baker said.

He went on that it is calculated that the chaparral of California has burned some 500 times in the last 11,000 years ago; not just spot fires, but at one time or another, the entire Elfin Forest. Nature was thus able to prevent the brush from over-maturing and becoming decadent; the branches from becoming old and brittle; the foliage from becoming full of ether extracts; and the ground beneath from becoming littered with highly volatile decaying vegetation.

"Researchers have found," explained Baker, "that the plants themselves actually invite fire, which they need for propagation, by adding high concentrations of ether extracts to their leaves as the plants age. These extracts make decadent chaparral almost explosive. The slightest ignition source will send the brush into flame when humidity is low.

"And, of course, when the "Santanas' blow from the interior deserts every fall and winter, the humidity drops to 10 percent or lower, while the temperature rises. Decadent brush then reaches a stage where a fire in it simply cannot be stopped and all we can do is try to save lives and property until a physical geographical barrier slows the advance of the flames.

"Apparently, fire is necessary to crack the hard seed coats of chaparral for high germination of seeds. Without fire, research has determined that the seeds of some species may remain dormant for many years."

The Laguna Fire of 1970 brought public demand for better protection from wildfire in San Diego County, resulting in increased research into brush management. Baker said that the county is now recognized as one of the leaders of the world in brush management. As time and money permit, the region may eventually be free of major conflagrations that now take such a fearsome toll in property, watershed, and even lives, he said.

"To accomplish this, we will have to manage the chaparral in a way similar to the way that nature managed it before man's fire suppression technology changed its ecosystem. He kept snuffing out small fires until conditions were met by the weather and the chaparral that defied his efforts," continued Baker.

"The vulnerability of our chaparral-covered back country to wildfire has resulted in an increase in our brush management projects," he said, "but not all the brush will be burned off or removed. However, we do intend to break up large areas of brush into management parcels. We will do this by continuing to burn selected areas and letting it rejuvenate itself, by crushing and cutting it with a Marsden roller, and by removing it with a modified anchor chain dragged between two caterpillar-type tractors. Some of these areas will be converted to grasslands through hormone sprays and plantings, but these will be limited to regions where soil, slope, and other conditions are right for grass."

"Contrary to what has been believed, research has shown us that grass or young brush does a better job of slowing rainfall run-off than decadent, older, pure brush stands," Baker said.

He explained that the soil becomes charged with water repelling waxy ether extracts, while the fairly open juvenile brush encourages the growth of water retaining grasses. More of a rainfall can percolate into aquifers, recharging the water table.

Baker spoke briefly on wildlife saying that only wood rats proliferate in decadent brush, while new brush and grass attract larger populations of rabbits, birds, and deer.

Beards were once taxed in England and Russia.
